About A-Leagues

The A-Leagues represent the pinnacle of professional football in Australia, comprising men's, women's, youth and e-leagues competitions.

Since gaining independence from Football Australia at the start of 2021, the A-Leagues are embarking on an ambitious strategy to drive engagement with men's and women's elite football and build on football's undisputed position as the country's most popular participation sport.

From 2021, the newly re-branded men's and women's competitions (brought under the A-Leagues brand to reflect football's young, inclusive and forward-looking audience) will be shown on the 10 Network and on its sibling, the new-to-market Paramount+ streaming service.

With 12 clubs in the men's league, and 10 from this season in the women's competition – plus a commitment to add at least two more next year – the A-Leagues has a stated aim to grow both competitions and create new heroes for its deepening cohort of members and supporters.

Every game of the Isuzu UTE A-League Men season will be broadcast on Paramount+. Channel 10 will also broadcast one Isuzu UTE A-League game every Saturday night.

The Isuzu UTE A-League – a truly diverse league

The 303 players in the initial A-League Men 2021/22 season squads presented in this guide were born in 41 nations, represent 27 nationalities, and have played for 28 countries in international football.

Combined, there are 44 different nations represented by birthplace, nationality or country played for – based on nations currently recognised by FIFA – for current players.

There is a section on player diversity for players in all previous A-League seasons later in the Season Guide.

Additionally the players have a wider range of ancestries, reflecting an even wider array of birth nations and nationalities of parents and grandparents.

Player ancestry – a strong African presence in 2021/22

Excluding imports there are at least 25 players in the initial Isuzu UTE A-League 2021/22 season squads with African ancestry, either by being born in Africa, or with a parent born there:

- Manyluak Aguek (Central Coast Mariners)
- Keanu Baccus (Western Sydney Wanderers FC)
- Adisu Bayew (Western United FC)
- Zaydan Bello (Melbourne Victory)
- Cyrus Dehmie (Brisbane Roar FC)
- Ajak Deu (Western United FC)
- Yaya Dukuly (Adelaide United)
- Gbenga Folami (Melbourne Victory)
- Jason Geria (Melbourne Victory)
- Bernie Ibini-Isei (Western Sydney Wanderers FC)
- Nestory Irankunda (Adelaide United)
- Elvis Kamsoba (Sydney FC)
- Charles M'Mombwa (Macarthur FC)
- Ayom Majok Ayom (Western United FC)
- Osama Malik (Perth Glory)
- Pacifique Niyongabire (Perth Glory)
- Alex Paulsen (Wellington Phoenix)
- Storm Roux (Central Coast Mariners)
- Ruon Tongyik (Central Coast Mariners)
- Nikolai Topor-Stanley (Western United FC)
- Al Hassan Toure (Macarthur FC)
- Mohamed Toure (Adelaide United)
- Adama Traore (Western Sydney Wanderers FC)
- Kusini Yengi (Adelaide United)
- Kuach Yuel (Newcastle Jets)

This list excludes other players from youth, academy or NPL teams, and who therefore may be called up to play in the A-League team throughout the season.

Additionally, Olivier Boumal (Newcastle Jets) is set to be the first male Cameroonian import to play in the A-League when he makes his debut appearance.

* Birthplaces are based on current national boundaries;

Nationalities used here are not official, definitive or necessarily current in that they reflect the main country where the player was raised up until their teenage years;

Countries played for are based on published information available for each player.

The background consists of several overlapping, irregular geometric shapes in two colors: a light pink and a medium blue. The shapes are arranged in a way that creates a dynamic, abstract pattern. The pink shapes are generally larger and more central, while the blue shapes are more angular and layered on top or to the side of the pink ones.

Before 1977 the strongest football clubs in Australia competed in state-based leagues. There were only limited opportunities for the country's best clubs to play against each other.

In 1975, some of the country's leading clubs signed an undertaking to commence a national football league. In 1977, the National Soccer League (NSL) kicked off with 14 clubs in the league's inaugural season.

The first match of the new competition took place on 2 April 1977, when Canberra City hosted West Adelaide at Manuka Oval. John Kosmina scored the NSL's first goal as West Adelaide went on to win 3-1.

Between the first and second seasons, Melbourne-based Mooroolbark was replaced by Newcastle KB United. Over the following 35 years a wide range of options and considerations were taken to introduce new and remove former national league clubs from the competition.

In 1980 the league first expanded, from 14 to 16 teams. Four years later the competition undertook its most radical transformation with a dual-conference system, based loosely on a northern and southern split of teams. In 1984 the league also implemented a finals system to determine the Champion team, after the first-past-the-post system had been used for the league's first seven seasons.

The national league reverted to a single-league set-up in 1987, and a one-off return to the Champion club being determined by the team that finished the ladder in first position. In 1988, and in every season since then, the finals system has been the undisputed method of deciding the Champion team. The first-placed team on the final ladder is honoured with the title Premiers.

In five of the eight 'first-past-the post' seasons (1978, 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1987) a post-season play-off series took place. However as these matches were not played to determine the Champion team, the records for these matches are considered separate to the national league records.

At the end of the 1989 season the league reverted from a winter- to summer-based competition.

In April 2004 the NSL closed down, and in 2005/06 the first A-League season took place.

The history and records for the A-League since 2005 can be considered as its own competition. However, as the A-League continues of the concept of the strongest clubs in Australia and (since 1999) New Zealand playing in a league format, with finals, records for the combined NSL and A-League since 1977 can be considered in terms of an Australian National League.

The A-League Men 2021/22 season is the 45th season of the Australian Men's National League.

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL LEAGUE – NATIONAL YOUTH LEAGUE HISTORY

From 1984 to 2004, and since 2008/09, there has been a national youth league season coinciding with the senior national league season.

From 1984 to 2004 the national youth league consisted of a northern and southern division, with the winners meeting in a national grand final to determine the Champion teams. From 2008/09 to 2014/15 there was a one-conference set-up, which reverted to two conferences in 2015. Grand finals also took place at the end of the 2008/09 and 2009/10 seasons, and since 2015/16.
