Player diversity in the Isuzu UTE A-League 2023-24 season

Isuzu UTE A-League 2023-24 season players were born in, raised in, or have played for at least 43 countries, based on squads as at the start of the season.

Aside from Australia and New Zealand, there at least 86 players in these squads who hail from, or who played for 41 countries (see table). While most (23) of these nations are European nations, countries from all other confederations are represented, including 11 African nations (Congo DR, Egypt, Ivory Coast, Kenya, Morocco, South Africa, South Sudan, Sudan, Tanzania, Tunisia and Zimbabwe).

The table shows that, for example, there are currently eight players either born in, raised in, or who have represented Brazil in an official international match, in either senior or age-restricted games.

This listing includes many Australian and New Zealand residents born in these other countries, including several African-born players who have represented Australia and New Zealand in various age groups.

Additionally there are players with parents and grand-parents (ancestry) from several other countries.

Season 2023-24 continuing a trend of player diversity in the A-League Men

In the first 18 A-League Men seasons 2005-06 to 2022-23, players originally from, or who represented, 110 nations played in the competition. This comprised players born in 94 countries, players raised in 74 countries, and/or who played for 92 countries.

Aside from Australia and New Zealand:

- the most popular countries of birth for A-League Men players prior to the 2023-24 season are England (101 players born in England), Brazil (48 players), Spain (41 players), Netherlands (36 players) and Scotland (22 players);
- the most popular countries raised in are also England (57 players raised in England), Brazil (47 players), Spain (40 players) and Netherlands (39 players), followed by Japan (21 players);
- the most popular countries played for are England (22 players have played for England), Netherlands (20 players), Scotland (18 players), Ireland (15) and Germany and Serbia (12 players each).

Full listings of countries of birth, countries raised in, and countries represented, of all A-League Men players 2005-06 to 2022-23, are presented later in the Season Guide.

* Countries born in are based on current FIFA nations/boundaries;

Countries raised in are the main FIFA country where the player was raised up until their teenage years;

Countries played for are based on published information found for each player, for senior and youth national teams.

Before 1977 the strongest football clubs in Australia competed in state-based leagues. There were only limited opportunities for the country's best clubs to play against each other.

In 1975, some of the country's leading clubs signed an undertaking to commence a national football league. In 1977, the National Soccer League (NSL) kicked off with 14 clubs in the league's inaugural season.

The first match of the new competition took place on 2 April 1977, when Canberra City hosted West Adelaide at Manuka Oval. John Kosmina scored the NSL's first goal as West Adelaide went on to win 3-1.

Between the first and second seasons, Melbourne-based Mooroolbark was replaced by Newcastle KB United. Over the following 35 years a wide range of options and considerations were taken to introduce new and remove former national league clubs from the competition.

In 1980 the league first expanded, from 14 to 16 teams. Four years later the competition undertook its most radical transformation with a dual-conference system, based loosely on a northern and southern split of teams. In 1984 the league also implemented a finals system to determine the Champion team, after the first-past-the-post system had been used for the league's first seven seasons.

The national league reverted to a single-league set-up in 1987, and a one-off return to the Champion club being determined by the team that finished the ladder in first position. In 1988, and in every season since then, the finals system has been the undisputed method of deciding the Champion team. The first-placed team on the final ladder is honoured with the title Premiers.

In five of the eight 'first-past-the post' seasons (1978, 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1987) a post-season play-off series took place. However as these matches were not played to determine the Champion team, the records for these matches are considered separate to the national league records.

At the end of the 1989 season the league reverted from a winter- to summer-based competition.

In April 2004 the NSL closed down, and in 2005-06 the first A-League season took place.

The history and records for the A-League Men since 2005 can be considered as its own competition. However, as the A-League Men continues the concept of the strongest men's teams in Australia and (since 1999) New Zealand playing in a league format, with finals, records for the combined NSL and A-League Men since 1977 can be considered in terms of an Australian Men's National League.

The A-League Men 2023-24 season is the 47th season of the Australian men's national league.

Australian National Cup History

From 1962 to 1968, the leading state league teams played in Australia's first nation-wide knock-out cup – the Australia Cup.

From 1977 to 1996-97, in conjunction with each of the first 21 seasons of the National Soccer League (NSL), a national knock-out cup competition was played by national league clubs and, in some seasons, non-national league clubs – the NSL Cup.

From 2005 to 2008 a pre-season cup competition took place, consisting of national league clubs only – the Pre Season Cup.

Since 2014 a national knock-out cup has featured national league and member federation-based clubs – the Australia Cup.

MEN'S NATIONAL LEAGUE – NATIONAL YOUTH LEAGUE HISTORY

From 1984 to 2004, and since 2008-09, there has been a national youth league season coinciding with the senior national league season.

From 1984 to 2004 the national youth league consisted of a northern and southern division, with the winners meeting in a national grand final to determine the Champion teams. From 2008-09 to 2014-15 there was a one-conference set-up, which reverted to two conferences in 2015. Grand finals also took place at the end of the 2008-09 and 2009-10 seasons, and from 2015-16 to 2019-20.
