About A-Leagues

The A-Leagues represent the pinnacle of professional football in Australia, comprising Liberty A-League Women's, Isuzu UTE A-League Men's, Youth and E-league competitions.

The 2023-24 season of the Liberty A-League women's competition sees a full 22-game regular season fixture of 132 games (plus finals), up from just 99 regular games in 2022-23, and a record high 12 clubs in the league with the re-emergence of foundation club Central Coast Mariners.

The A-Leagues, operated by Australian Professional Leagues (APL), is delivering against its bold ambition to develop top-tier professional football talent in Australia, drive engagement across the leagues and to build on football's undisputed position as the country's most popular participation sport.

Every Liberty A-League match is live and free on 10 Play, and live on Paramount+

The Liberty A-League Pass offers a free season pass to under 16 year olds to the Liberty A-League season 2023-24, details on aleagues.com.au

A-LEAGUE WOMEN PLAYER DIVERSITY

The international dimension of the A-League Women – 2008-09 to 2022-23 seasons

In the first 15 A-League Women seasons to 2022-23 there were players born in, raised in, or played for at least 45 different countries, including Australia and New Zealand, who made at least one A-League Women appearance each season.

From just 12 countries in the first season 2008-09, last year's A-League Women season 2022-23 had players born in, raised in, or played for an equal record (for a season) 20 countries, including 23 players from the United States, and representatives of Canada, Chile, China and Czechia.

Based on 2023-24 season squads presented in the Season Guide, an additional three countries may be added to the list this season, with Myanmar-born Silver Bell Morris (Western United), Lorena Baumann (Newcastle Jets) from Switzerland, and Venezuelan national team player Mariana Speckmaier (Wellington Phoenix) in these squads. Appearances by these players would increase the number of nations represented to 48, based on the country born in, raised in or played for definitions, with the possibility of players from other nations joining through the season.

Additionally, A-League Women players past and present have a wider range of ancestries, reflecting an even broader array of birth nations and nationalities of parents and grandparents.

While giving a major international flavour for A-League Women spectators and viewers, on the back of the hugely successful FIFA Women's World Cup Australia-New Zealand 2023, the spread of players from all over the world also provides Australian and New Zealand players great learning and development opportunities by playing alongside such culturally diverse teammates.

* Countries born in are based on current FIFA nations/boundaries;

Countries raised in are the main FIFA country where the player was raised up until their teenage years;

Countries played for are based on published information found for each player, for senior & youth national teams.

AFC WOMEN'S CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP 2023

The AFC Women's Club Championship 2023 - Invitational Tournament sees the return of Asia's premier women's football club competition with eight club champions competing. With the group stage taking place from November 6 to 12, the 2023 tournament will give way to the AFC Women's Champions League from the 2024/25 season.

The eight teams in the 2023 tournament (three more than the previous edition) are divided into two groups of four, with seeding of clubs based on the FIFA Women's World Ranking of their respective member associations at the time of the September 2023 draw.

Pot 1 has the top-seeded team, WE League champions Urawa Red Diamonds Ladies of Japan, who are joined by A-League Women champions Sydney FC as the second seed.

Pot 2 consists of third seed and champions of Korea Republic's WK League, the Hyundai Steel Red Angels Women's FC, and five-time Chinese Taipei women's league winners Hualien Women's Football Team, seeded fourth.

Pot 3 are the fifth and sixth seeded teams, namely Thailand's Bangkok FC, who won their first Thai Women's League title in 2023, and defending Uzbekistan Women's League champions FC Nasaf, formerly known as Sevinch Qarshi.

Pot 4 features the current national champions from India, Sree Gokulam Kerala, and runners-up of the AFC Women's Club Championship 2022 (West) and Kowsar Women Football League winners, Bam Khatoon from Iran.

A one-round league format sees the four teams in each group play against each other, in centralised venues in Thailand and Uzbekistan, with the group winners later playing in the final to determine the best women's club side in Asia.

Women's National Soccer League
1996–2004

WOMEN'S NATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE

From 1996 to 2004, the Women's National Soccer League (WNSL) showcased Australia's best women's players in a national league competition for the first time. Over its nine seasons, the league consisted of teams mostly representing the state and territory-based academies and institutes, and Australian Institute of Sport players.

A variety of league formats existed over the nine summer seasons of the WNSL, including dual-conference leagues, sometimes incorporating cross-over rounds. The number of games for each team in the regular season varied from five in the 2000/01 season, to ten in each of the last four seasons. Each season concluded with a grand final to determine the champion team.

Most teams participated under different names throughout the nine seasons of the WNSL. For consistency, each team is generally referred to here by their region name: Canberra, New South Wales, Northern New South Wales (Northern NSW), South Australia, Queensland and Victoria. West Australian team 'Western Waves' played in six rounds of the final WNSL season 2004.
